RICE AND SARA BERNHARDT. His Impersonation Made a Big Hit with Her.

William Henry Rice, the distinguished burlesque comedienne with William H. West's Big Minstrel Jubilee, which appears at the Lyceum next Friday, August 4, had quite an amusing experience some years ago with Sara Bernhardt, the famous French actress. During the divine Sara's first engagement in New York city, some years ago, Mr. Rice attended one of her performances and subsequently appeared in a parody of it. His impersonation of the great emotional actress was one of the decided hits of the day.

The matter came to the ears of the French actress, and she decided to see Rice's performance. She was so de-lighted with his burlesque of herself that she requested an introduction to him and sent him an invitation to visit her in the box. On the following day, as a token of her appreciation, she sent him as a souvenir a rare and beautiful emerald ring, which it is needless to say Mr. Rice counts us one of his most priceless possessions.

DEMURRER IS FILED.

Another Step Taken In Asphalt Repair Litigation-Bonds of Tax Collectors Filed.

Attorneys A. A. Vosburg and L. H. Burns yesterday filed a demurrer to the bill in equity filed on June 14 by Campbell and William Farrell against the Barber Asphalt Paving company, the city of Scranton, and Esdras Howell, city controller.

The bill asked that the ordinance for the repair of streets be adjudged unlawful, void and of no effect; that the contract attempted to be entered into by James G. Bailey as mayor of the city with the Barber company be adjudged and decreed null and void. The demurrer filed to this bill is as

"Defendant demurs to the whole of the plaintiffs' bill and sets forth as follows the specifications of the reaons why the specifications of plaintiffs' bill are not sufficient to entitle plaintiffs to the relief prayed for.

"First-The contract of Dec. 12, 1898 as set forth in plaintiffs' bill is not in force, having been declared defective by this court in the case of E. Morris vs. city of Scranton, et al. The contract of Jan. 27, 1899, which is in and therefore no facts are shown to justify this court in declaring the same

"Second-The bill does not show wherein plaintiffs as taxpayers have sustained or will sustain injury. "Third-The bill sets forth no violation of law by defendants or any of

"Fourth-The allegations of the bill are irrelevant, vague and indefinite and form no valid basis for a decree as prayed for."

Tax Collectors' Bonds. The bond of W. E. Correll, tax collector of Dunmore, in the sum of $100, 000. approved by Judge Gunster, was filed with Clerk of the Courts Daniels yesterday. # LIVE NEWS OF THE INDUSTRIAL WORLD

GEORGE M. LOWE IS TO SUCCEED R. T. RENNIE.

The Latter Has Been in Charge of the Lackawanna Company's Car Accountants' Office for the Last Eight Years-Men at the Babylon Colliery Refuse to Work-Their Alleged Grievances-Holden Mine Will Not Be Shut Down Just Yet. Trouble at Nanticoke.

R. T. Rennie, who for the past eight years has been in charge of the accountants' office in this city of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad company, will step from that osition today. He was be succeeded by George M. Lowe, who recently reigned a similar position with the Peoria and Pekin Union Railroad company of Illinois.

Mr. Lowe is a young man and is thoroughly versed in railroad matters. Previous to his going with the Peovia and Pekin Union road he was con nected with the Big Four road. His selection to his new post of duty was irged by J. M. Daly, of this city, the superintendent of transportation.

Babylon Colliery Is Idle.

The employes at the Babylon colery, Duryes, operated by Simpson & Watkins, of this city, refused to go to work yesterday morning and in onsequence the colliery has been shut down indefinitely.

The cause of the shut down is difference between the company and the men regarding the scale of wages Heretofore the employes have been paid according to the number of ars loaded each day, but the men want o be paid by the gross ton. The docking system which is in vogue is detrimental, they claim, as they are unable to earn a fair day's wages after paying the laborer, pow der expenses, etc. The employes communicated their grievances to the operators on Sat-urday, but no action was taken, and in consequence of this the men refused to go to work yesterday. Messrs. Simpson and Watkins could not be seen yester lay, but it is understood nothing will be done by them in the matter. The colliery will be shut nack to work It is thought, however, that the mater will be amicably adjusted, as no attempt will be made to employ other men and in consequence there will not be any disturbance around the mines

lown until the men are ready to go

The Strike Situation.

The strikers are going enthusiasti over their boycott plan and seem fully determined to put it in force. They say they will give the merchants on force is not set out in plaintiffs' bill | more chance to give their work to the proper people and that if they do not do so the boycott will be ordered. The carpenters yesterday reported having taken on their own account a large addition to M. J. Kelly's cracker bakery on Capouse avenue, executive committee of the latter body say that they are daily in receipt of money from various trades unions and trades councils throughout the country. No reply to the appeal made to the American Federation of Labor has as yet been received by Secretary Moran, of the Central Labor union.

John Knowlton, business agent of the carpenters' union, said yesterday that a very large contractor from New York city came to this city about three weeks ago and had a long interview with him. He offered to bid on any contract in this city that the union might desire him to and also agreed to pay the union scale to the men working for him. Mr. Knowlton said at that time there was no large job to bid on, but further stated that when any such job was to be bid on that this man would do so.

The plumbers are still out and are maintaining their old position. They are firm for the eight hour day and say they will never give up this demand.

Holden Not Shut Down.

The report that the Holden mine of the Lackawanna company would be abandoned yesterday in the event that an amicable agreement was not made between the company and Isaac B Felts was untrue.

The mine for the present will be worked and there is no likelihood of an order being issued to abandon the When seen by a Tribune man yesterday Superintendent Loomis of the department of mining and real estate

"The Holden is working and will continue so. For some time past we have been decreasing our force, but this is not an indication that the mine will be abandoned. However, nearly all the coal of our property that is not disputed by Mr. Felts has been mined. The breaker at that mine is badly in need of repairing and the loss would not be great if we are compelled to suspend operations when our coal there

Miners Ordered Out.

The miners employed at the Susquehanna Coal company at Nanticoke were ordered out by Superintendent Tonkin yesterday. When they went to work in the morning they did not comply with the topping order issued last week which required them to have a sixteen-inch top on when the car left the breasts and six-inch when it arrived at the breaker.

Mr. Tonkin asked them whether they intended to obey the order, and when they informed him that they did not, he promptly told them to leave the mine and take their tools with hem. Mr. Tonkin says the men will not be permitted to return to work until they agree to obey the topping orders.

Pay of Valley Engineers.

In response to the list of grievances submitted by the engineers employed on the Lehigh Valley railroad to the general superintendent, a notice was yesterday issued by the company fixing the pay of enginemen for the first six months at $2.75 per day; for the cond six months $3, and thereafter $3.25 per day. Mrs. Totten were attired in the new colunteer uniform which is remarkably appropriate and tasty. The skirt is grey and the waist, which is simply but prettily made, is of a bluish grey shade. The hats are, however, the nost charming feature of the costume They are round and are striped grey and white. They are worn way back on the head, allowing the hair to be olled upwards, producing a very attractive appearance.

PRINCIPAL ADDRESS.

The principal feature of the evening vas the address delivered by Colonel Kepple. He started by telling of the nauguration of the volunteer move nent a little over three years ago, H old of the breaking away from the parent branch, the Salvation army, and low those who secode from every movement are always subject to cenure. He said that the secession was hade for good, conscientious and scriptural reasons. The Volunteers took all the good features of the Salvation army and formed a new association ased on American ideas and principles,

He stated that after eighteen years' ork in this country in the ranks of the Salvation army, he became convinced that instead of firmly taking hold upon the minds of the people it was deteriorating. This, he said, was largey due to the foreign control and foreign methods adopted. The Volunteers have abandoned the street parades and the beating of the brass drum, because they seek to refine minds and reach a class of people who are not reached by this means.

He dwelt at some length upon the different distinctive features of the organization, speaking especially the prison work being done under the guidance of Mrs. Ballington Booth, "The Little Mother." He said that there were over 3,000 men in the varhad been brought to live better lives known and able railroad men of the within the past year by the Volunteers. He then spoke of what he said was
